

18 Carne Asada Fries

ADMIT IT—YOU HAVE A GUILTY PLEASURE OR TWO. Here's something that definitely qualifies as such: the carne asada fries at Taco Spot in Eagle Rock. The dish is exactly what it sounds like: chunks of savory carne asada served over melted cheese and diner-quality french fries, topped with guacamole and sour cream. You may be thinking, Hey, that's just nachos with fries instead of chips. But you're wrong. There's something about this combo that gives it a certain je ne sais qué. Enjoy an order ($5.75), and, yes, you'll feel guilty—as you should. But if you go alone, no one else has to know.
